People 7

"The students of J.H.S. are a group of classy, well-rounded individuals. Although competitive and spirited in athletics and academics, the atmosphere is friendly and close. Students can be proud of the qualities of J.H.S. and themselves."

Mary Ann Pelkey

Sports 45

"If you give 110% other people will respect you. If you expect 110% out of other people then you should respect them."

Scott Priest

Academics 83

"The academic curriculum here at Johnstown High School contains something for everyone. My personal favorites are lunch and the last bell on Friday!"

Laura Blair

Organizations 107

"Being involved in clubs and organizations take a lot of time and effort, but the memories and friends I made will never be forgotten."

Barbara Jo Almendinger

Student Life 119

"Laughing, singing, pep rallies, and dances make everyday life in the halls of J.H.S. fun and exciting. Someday the romances, friendships, and especially prom will be fondly remembered and sometimes bring back tears of happiness."

Rob Dauber

"Many of the young people at J.H.S. have benefitted from the generousity of our local businesses. Without their backing, it would be impossible to finance the many programs offered each year."

Mr. Kidwell

Watching a basketball game is a nightly routine for Mr. Lattig.
Lunch is a time of fun and relaxation for these underclassmen.

Halloween is an excuse for S. Kashuk to shed his band uniform at halftime.

Givin' It All We've Got

With apologies to Charles Dickens, it is the best of times, it is the worst of times, and WE'VE GOT IT ALL!

Speaking of the worst, try having the first bell ring at 7:57 a.m. — nothing worthwhile happens at 7:57, except at Johnstown High School of course. Even worse than 7:57 is MONDAY at 7:57. Imagine this, the teachers actually expect us to work, all day! From first period on, we scurry through the day thinking only of the 2:35 bell. From English class, to biology lab, to gym, to band practice, back upstairs to French class, and down again to study hall is our usual routine. Sometimes a club meeting, Quiz Bowl match, or assembly breaks up the daily routine.

Being with our friends keeps our mind off the agony of a physics lab, a vocabulary test, a government notebook, a typing manual, and an algebra quiz. After all, finding out all the gossip from the Johnstown version of Days of Our Lives is more important than our classes anyway. The new cafeteria has provided us with another place to find out the latest. While it is nice not to have to eat on the floor in the halls anymore, split lunches cut down on our chances of being with our friends since they probably have lunch a different period than we do. Once lunch is over, the highlight of the day for most of us comes at 2:35 — especially Friday at 2:35 — when all of us stampede out of school to refill our brains with the energy that has been drained during the week.

Weekends can always be filled with extracurricular activities — like sporting events. Even when the team doesn't win, our spirit and pride are evident to everyone there. If there isn't a sporting event, there is usually a dance or other activity going on. Some really desperate people even stay home and work on term papers, take ACT tests, or make plans for their future.

Somehow, over the four years we are at JHS, we manage to squeeze in a full schedule of friends, clubs, sports, musicals, proms, and even classes that start at 7:57! If we take the time to weigh "the best of times" and "the worst of times", most of us will have to agree that at Johnstown High . . .

WE'VE GOT IT ALL!

Hugging it up are H. Wolfe, K. Thompson & D. Minico.
Hoping for a good grade is N. Montgomery.
J.H.S. welcomes Mr. Felumlee by throwing a pie in his face.

Showing off are A. Williams and friends.
Dancing the night away are C. McClintick and K. Wimer.

Being unique is a way of life for these junior guys.
Kazoos add music and variety at the pep rally.

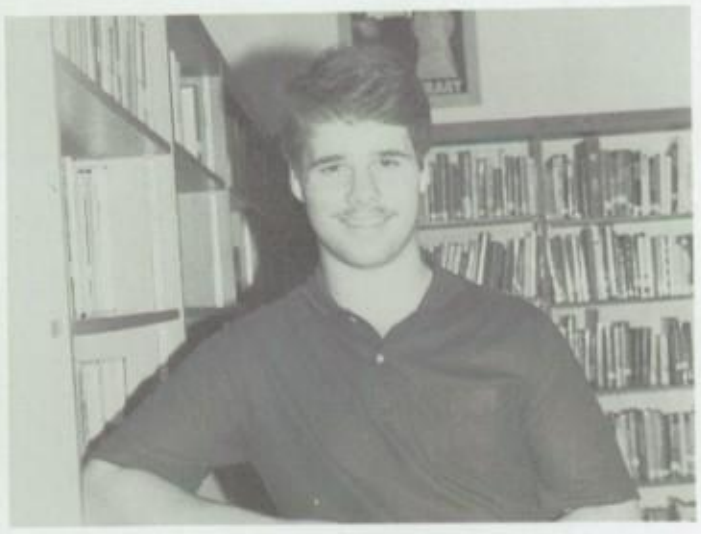
Cars, Cash, College

Earning money for "the big three" — cars, cash, and college — became the focal point of many juniors' life this year. Getting a job to make car payments, pay for insurance, get money together for college, or just meet upcoming school expenses became a top priority. Unfortunately for many, the trade-off for many juniors was that there was no longer time to enjoy being a part of school life since "extra time" was a thing of the past. Working, studying, and finding time to eat and sleep took all available energy.



Working at Villa Pizza kept Kim Baughn, Jason James, and Shirlene Warren busy in their spare time.

Craig Eing, Kevin Wilson, Dawn Hennen, and Kirsten Ullmark stocked shelves and rang up purchases at the IGA to earn extra cash.

Earning "cold cash" at Perfect's Freeze-Locker helped Kirk Friedberg make ends meet.

At the Dairy Isle, William Berkley earned expense money by mastering the art of making milkshakes.

Der Dutchman Restaurant kept Tricia Reynolds, Christy Rector, and LeeAnn Roar busy waiting tables.

Two Down, Two To Go!

Sophomores easily settled into the high school routine. With leadership from Bill Crockett, Troy sheets, Marvy Swick, and Lisa Rhyan they eagerly got involved in school activities now that they were no longer "lowly freshmen."

Time Out For Some fun

In spite of the demands of classes, homework, and extra-curricular activities, sophomores Christine Roby and Jenny Almendinger managed to find time and enjoy the friendships that were a big part of high school life.

Bored Of Education

Everything was not always fun and excitement during the school day. As Frank Burcham's expression clearly shows, those last few mintues before the bell rang often seemed like hours. Lunch was the only period that always went too fast.

Top Guns

When the going got tough, where did we find ourselves going? To the office to talk with Mr. Montgomery or Mr. Caudle more often than not. Whether it was a phone call to have Mom bring lunch and/or money, an admit slip after a day "needed at home", or an early morning detention, the two Top Guns in the office were the ones to see. Mr. Montgomery and Mr. Caudle could always be counted on to have the answers even if they weren't always the ones we wanted to hear!

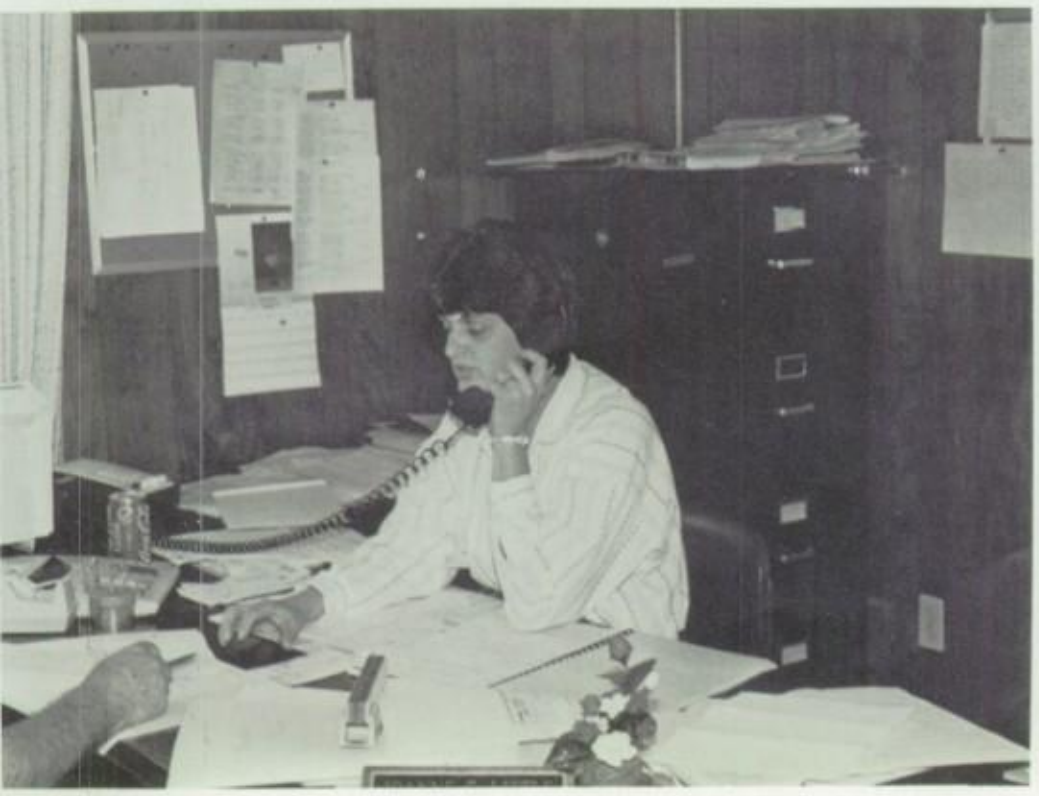
Rick Currens, Dave Eichner and Brett Roar wait while Mr. C decides whether he buys their story this time.

Getting diplomas ordered for seniors is one of the jobs Mr. Montgomery does long before seniors start graduation countdown.

Sitting at his desk is something Mr. Caudle does not often find time to do.

Table washing in the new lunchroom is just one more job this year for Mr. Montgomery.

Now that we no longer have to go to Searfoss for lunch, Mr. Caudle often takes his chances eating in the cafeteria.



At the board office, Mrs. Kathy Wyant assists the clerk-treasurer in keeping track of the business of running a school system.
From teacher and coach, to assistant principal, to principal, to superintendent — Mr. Charles Kessler has done it all during his twenty-five years in the Johnstown school system.
Teaching bus safety to five year olds, finding out who left snuff on the bus, and checking the roads on snowy days are all in a day's work for transportation director, Mr. Bob Davis.
As central office secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Davis is kept busy doing all the clerical work involved in running our schools.
The new clerk-treasurer, Mrs. Joanne Little, is ultimately responsible for accounting for this multimillion dollar business right down to the 45¢ you lost in the pop machine.

Coach Kiser's Team Posts Best Ever League Record

The Team's Five League Victories Give Lady Johnnies And Coach Kiser The Best League Record Ever In J.H.S. History.

Led by the senior volleyball players, the varsity team had a twelve and twelve season and the reserves had a twelve and seven record.

Awards were given to the MVP and MIP players. The most valuable player went to Teresa Keplar and most improved went to Michelle Montgomery. These ladies worked very hard along with the other members of the team to have a great season.

Coach Kiser thought that the team had a very good record considering that the varsity played Granville and Newark Catholic, who were the top two teams in the league. Both teams gave the Johnnies a tough battle.

Both Coach Kiser and Coach Lloyd congratulated the teams on a great performance. Thanks to the crowd, the teams pulled through at crucial times and fought their way back to victory.

Volleyball scoreboards pages 58 and 59.

In preparation for a victory serve is Barbara Jo Almendinger.

The seniors for this year's golf team are Heidi Wright; Scott Priest, lowest average; Alan Thompson, most valuable; and Brian West.

Putting Along Earns Third For Golf Team

Although it was an average season for the varsity golf team, it was still an enjoyable one. Their record was 14-13-1. They were led by seniors Scott Priest, Alan Thompson, Brian West, and Heidi Wright. The other varsity member was junior, Scott Harris.

The award winners for this year were Scott Priest, lowest average; Alan Thompson, most valuable; and Scott Harris, most improved.

When the golf team started out, they had many goals. One of them was to finish first in the L.C.L., but unfortunately they finished third. Even though the team didn't reach this goal, they accomplished other goals. They placed 2nd in the Mt. Gilead Invitational. They also placed 3rd in the Northridge Invitational.

While the varsity team was off to a good start, the reserves were off to a slow one. During the middle of the season they showed improvement and by the end of the season, they showed much improvement from the beginning. The members of the team were Jack Flores, Mike Hall, Scott Helmke, Henry Turik, and Chad Wright.

Loosening up before a match are a few of the varsity members.
Posing for the camera are Alan Thompson, and Scott Harris.

What Has Two Tired Legs And Runs With Headphones Blasting?

Members Of The Cross Country Team Running On Their Free Time For Extra Practice And Enjoyment!

Taking a break from all the confusion, junior Ginny Owens poses for the camera.

The cross country team had a very successful season this year. With only two seniors, Steve Kashuk and Mary Ann Pelkey, they finished the season with a good record.

Throughout the training and practices, the team ran about three to six miles every night; some team members even running in their free time. Though most of the meets were on week nights, the ones on weekends were most enjoyed. "It really kept me in shape," said Sandra Conard. Though being on the cross country team was hard work, long hours, and devoted dedication, it also proved to be very enjoyable.

The awards winners for this year's team were Denise Stewart, most improved and Ginny Owens, most valuable. The team showed strong efforts and support both to each other and to the school.

All The Determination . . .

Couldn't Overcome Injuries, Bad Weather, And Two State Champs

Here I sit thinking about the excitement of the past football season. Two state champs, bad weather, and injuries — who could ask for anything more?

It all started in the beginning of August with two-a-days. The players would come in the morning, practice for a couple of hours, and leave to eat an infamous lunch at the Dairy Isle. At approximately three o'clock, the players returned to prepare for the treacherous season ahead.

Finally, the beginning of school came, and the first game arrived. The Johnnies proved to us that they were prepared when they beat Big Walnut 8 to 7. The next game was more challenging. The Johnnies played Bishop Hartley and lost. This was nothing to be ashamed of since starter Andy Cannon was injured and Hartley ended up being a state champ. Two weeks later the Johnnies had to battle Newark Catholic, who also became a state champ.

The weather was also an unpredictable factor in the season. It rained almost every game, but the Johnnies kept on fighting for what they wanted most . . . A VICTORY!

Rain, state champs, and injuries — what memories they bring back.

Injured, Jerry Bush, along with teammate, Bryan Hall, watch the game from the sidelines.

Outstanding effort showed by Jay Orders all season paid off in the end. He received most valuable offensive player for the 1986 football season.

A Spark For The Future

Did you ever wonder what all of the guys who stood on the side lines at the football games did, or why they stayed on the team if they never played? Actually, they did play, but only on a different day at a different time.

While most people sat at home watching cartoons and sleeping in, you could find the reserve players at a football game. These players practiced with the varsity team members, went to all the varsity games, but they were unable to show their talents until Saturday mornings, although some of them got lucky enough to play at a few of the varsity games.

The reserve team had a good season, and will be a spark of life for the varsity team in the future years.

Hard work pays off for award winners Jay Orders, Jerry Bush, and Stan Stewart.

Johnnies' teammates try to escape the sharp claws of the Panthers.

Trying to figure out the next play are Mr Dardinger and Mr. Montgomery.

Senior, Matt Cook, and his parents are getting prepared for the last football game of the season.

Looking for someone to throw a pass to, is Matt Cook.

Even though he is injured, Andy Cannon still shows his dedication to the team.

Keeping stats during football season, are Heidi Wright and Heather Wolfe.

Holding the Panthers back, is the Johnnie defense.
Preparing to catch a pass, is Steve Proffit.
Trying to figure out the next play are Coach Kidwell and Coach Dufford.

Lady Johnnies Demonstrate

Through Hard Work And Constant Dedication The Varsity Team Provide An Improving Season

Although the Varsity Lady Johnnies' record of 9 and 12 may not look so hot, the team did very well. They had some great 4th quarter comebacks, and they played 3 top-ranked teams. Even though Johnstown got defeated by these teams, they worked hard and never gave up. The award winners were: Kathy Paxton, Most Valuable and MaryAnn Pelkey, Most Improved. Lisa Rhyan had the highest free-throw percentage with 68%. This year's varsity team was led by only three seniors: Kathy Paxton, MaryAnn Pelkey, and Heidi Wright. The other members of the team were all underclassmen. Overall, the Varsity Lady Johnnies had a pretty good season, and they never gave up!

Sticking with the Lady Lancer is Lisa Rhyan

The Varsity team consists of K. Uhde, L. Rhyan, K. Paxton, H. Wright, M. Pelkey, T. Orders, Manager J. Swick, K. Wimer, T. Conard, M. Swick, M. Montgomery, J. Scovell, N. Montgomery, and Coach Montgomery

Outstanding Effort

From Scrimmages To Final Games The Reserves Never Gave Up They Constantly Said "Yes We Can!"

The reserve team, which was led by only two sophomores, may not have had the best final record, but they did give this season their all. Although the team's record of five and fifteen did not look promising, Coach Smith said she was pleased with the improvement shown over the season. The team had four players who dressed both reserve and varsity. Nicole Montgomery, Kim Uhde, Tammy Conard, and Tracy Orders gave both the reserve and varsity their support throughout the season.

Considering that the reserve team played mostly against sophomores and juniors, both Coach Smith and varsity Coach Montgomery were pleased with the season's outcome.

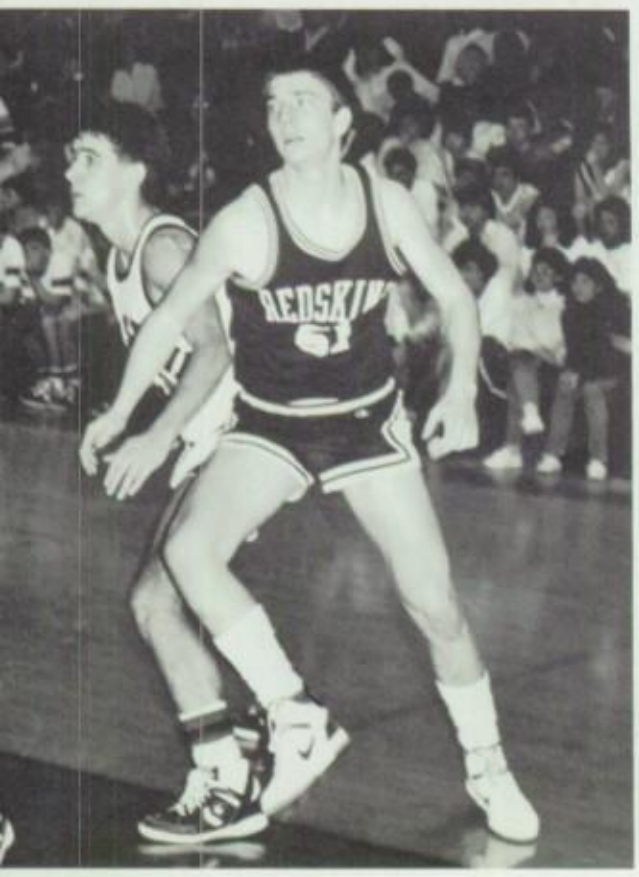
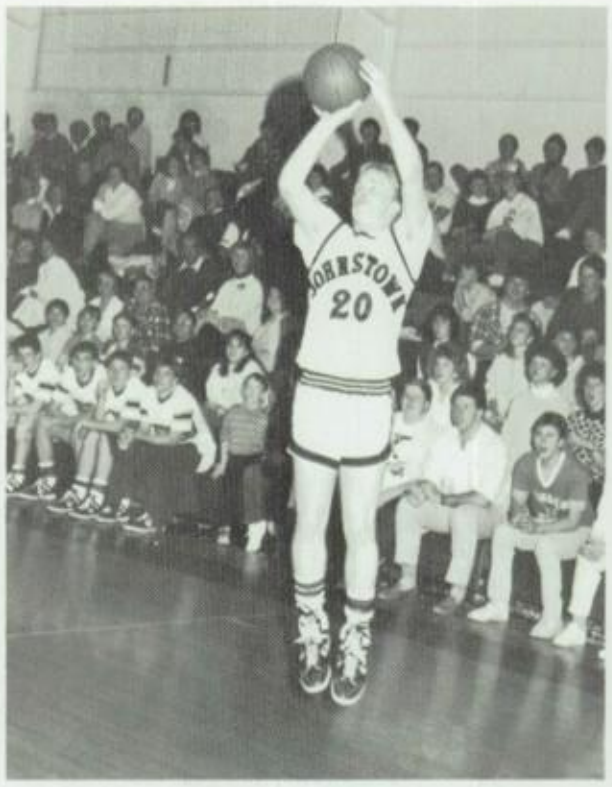
JOHNNIES JOHNSTOWN HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

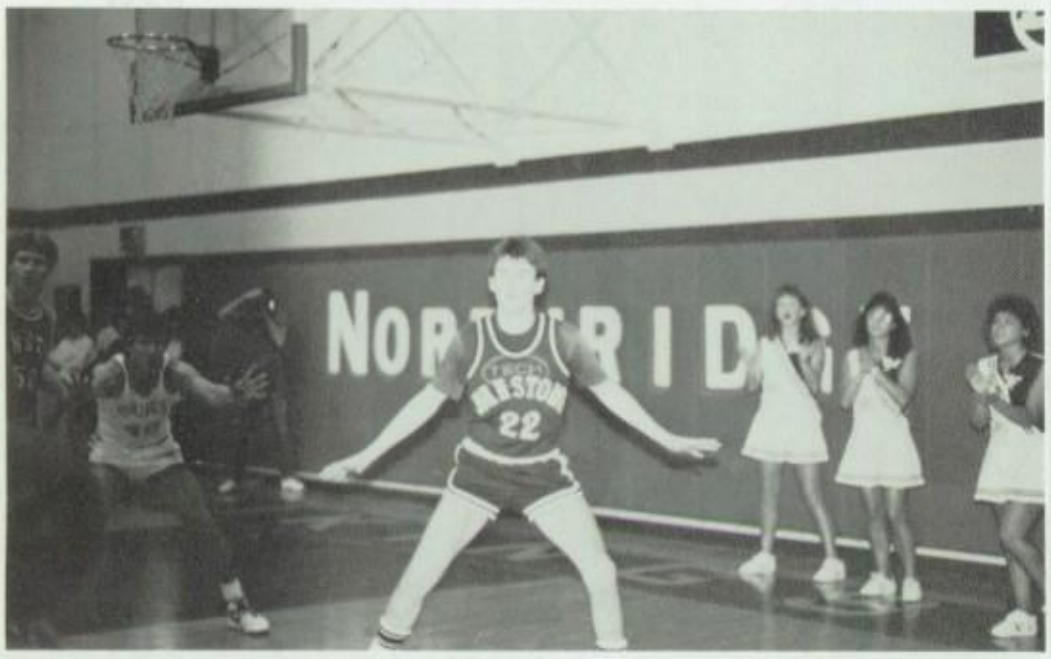


For Johnnie Basketball fans, it was not a good year. For only the third time in Coach Caudle's fourteen year career as varsity coach, the team lost more games than they won during the season. The high point of the year was the upset victory over Newark Catholic, 59-57 at Newark. The freshman team also suffered through a trying season with a record of 3-17. Unfortunately, the record book doesn't show that they lost 10 games within 5 points. The brightest spot of the basketball season this year was the reserve team who ended up 13-7. With the help of a few varsity players in addition to the hustle and intensity shown by the reserves, this team definitely should provide basketball fans with more to cheer about next year.

Scott Priest and teammates enjoy their victory over Newark Catholic.
Waiting for his team to get set up is Mike Hall.
Tough defense was a goal for Jerry Bush as Northridge inbounds the ball.
Hampered by a knee injury, senior Andy Cannon looks for help from his teammates.
Maintaining position against Utica is Dan Hatfield.

Building Toward A Better Future





Jay Orders aims for the hoop.
Hoping for an easy layup is Andy Cannon.
Jeff Barr waits for Northridge to move the ball inside.
Anxiously watching the on-court action are the reserve players.
Watching his teammates set up, Kirk Gatchell dribbles the ball.
Senior award winners this year were Dan Hatfield, most improved; Andy Cannon, most valuable; Scott Priest, most valuable and best free throw shooter; and Jay Orders, best defense.

Listening attentively during a time-out are Jerry Bush, Jeff Barr, and Kirk Gatchell.
Senior Arnie Williams led the team in steals and assists this season.
Concentrating on his job against Watkins is Scott Priest.
Reserve team players Mike Hall, Jerry Bush, Mike Hollis, and Troy Sheets play defense against Northridge.

With Hard Work, Dedication, And Lack Of Food, Wrestlers Win

Johnnies Finish 3rd In County With Help From Senior Captains And, MVP, Tony Ucker.

Mat burns, bites, scratches, and messed up knees, these are some of the things the life of wrestler gets accustomed to. But, even with the hard knocks, the Johnstown Wrestlers came out on top. They succeeded in claiming the third place in the county and some even had the ability to go above and beyond. Senior Scott Stover and Junior Tim McKenzie both won the 5th place position in the District Competition, while Junior Tony Ucker placed 2nd and then went on to Regionals.

Although 34 men showed up at the beginning of the season, only the following endured the hard workouts and finished the season: Ed Heller, Chris Fetters, Curt Brown, Joe Reynolds, Tom Fisher, Henry Turik, Todd Berona, Tony Marshbank, Danny Moore, Steve Pittman, Mark Jackson, Eric Cooperider, Tim McKenzie, Todd Friedberg, Tony Ucker, Jeff Uhde, Scott Stover, and Steve Kashuk. Helping this year's team were stats, Jen Fetters, Nikki Smith, Jennifer Priest and Shelly Bare. Fixing the injuries were trainers, Sherlene Smith and Jim Wheaton. Despite their success, this team was very young and should be a serious challenge to anybody in the year to come.

Softball Team Has Enthusiasm And Spirit To Win

Proven By The Games Won This Year

The 1987 Girls Softball Team did a very nice job of going out and winning some games. They gave it their all and this is what helped them to win. In the beginning of the season the girls had some bad news, their head coach, Coach Lloyd was involved in a car accident and would not be able to coach them that season. The girls felt bad about this but under the direction of Coach Linda Ensminger they had a pretty good year.

The entire Softball team Showed enthusiasm and spirit in all of their games. The girls gave everyone on the team support whether they struck out or they hit a home run. The team showed that they were real competitors and that they could be good sports if they won or lost. The girls tried hard to win and to gain other schools respect by showing them how good our team was.

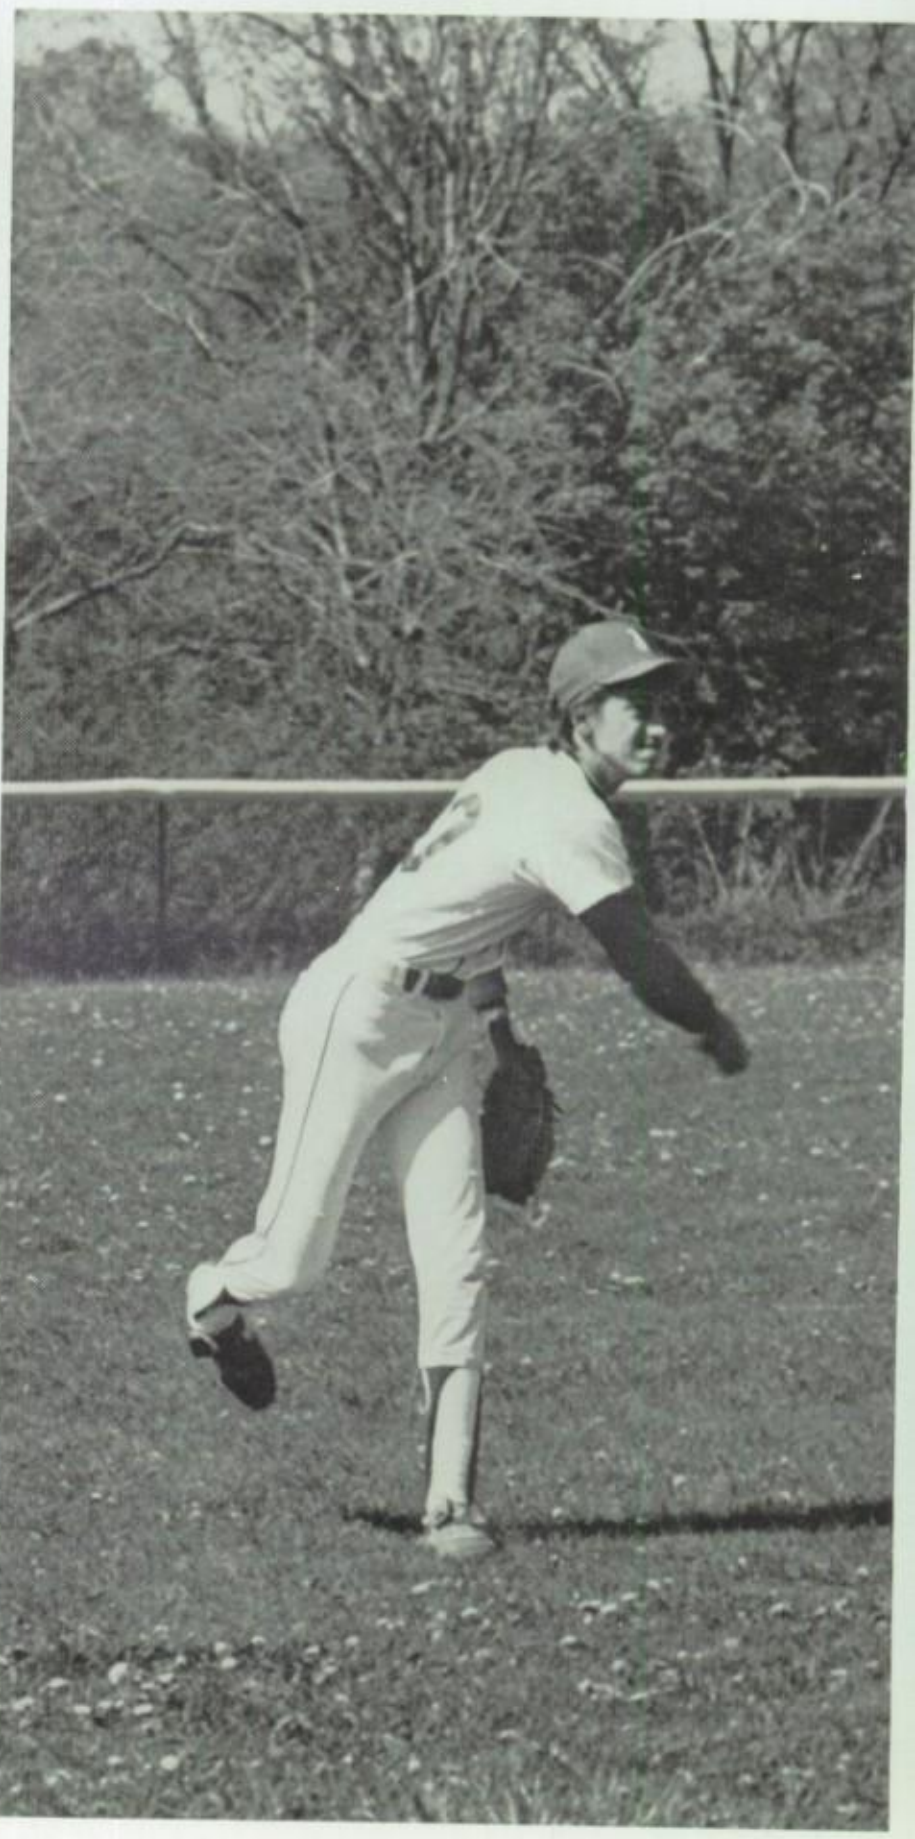
Coach Martin's Diamond Men Have Rough Season

Seven Wins, Sixteen Losses, Few Rainouts Make For Rough Baseball Season



Although this year's team did not have a very good season, they gave it their all. In spite of a seven win, sixteen loss record, there were a few bright spots in the season. Brian West had the highest batting average. Chuck Nicholson was named the most valuable player, and Shawn Brooks was named the most improved player on the varsity team. Matt Cook walked away with the honor of having the most stolen bases. Coaches Denny Martin and Dave Clayton would have to be encouraged by the team's win over arch rival Northridge, 6-1 and its shut out of Newark Catholic with a score of 5-0.

Showing off their trophies are Brian West and Shawn Brooks.

To These Energetic Freshmen

Being at the bottom of the totem pole didn't matter to this year's freshmen. That was only a meaningless phrase to this class. The class of '90 managed to make a name for itself in one short year.

Suffering through health, P.E., science, and English together, the class shared both good and bad times. Everyone shared in the hassles of memorizing health diagrams, being picked on by sophomores in P.E., filling out pedigree charts in science and turning in English book reports on time. Not only hassles but fun times filled the year. Getting out of class for CPR, going putt-putting, and touring the JVS were also part of this year's good times. The freshmen are looking forward to next year, hoping for even better times!

Mrs. Adams' undying patience toward her class is always shining brightly: even when explaining those confusing health topics.
Matt Harrison is being restrained from showing his enthusiasm about being a freshman.
Getting some extra help from Mr. Kidwell in study hall is Tonya McKnight.
Pictured in front of her famous Johnnie hats is Mrs. Uhde and her Algebra I students reviewing the day's lesson.
Though she teaches most of the freshmen classes plus some, Mrs. Ayres takes time to help Ken McClelland.

Taking a breather from class, these freshmen gladly pose for the camera.
Thinking about the swimming pool instead of summer school makes the last day more enjoyable for David Eichner and Shane Nicholson.
These freshmen enjoy their favorite class — LUNCH!
Stopped by a photographer on the way to class, Scott Helmke shows how much he enjoys being a freshman.
All smiles is the positive attitude coming out in these girls.
Mr. Martin patiently teaches Heather Derflinger the correct way to do CPR.

Two Down And Only

Who says school's all work and no play? Not these spirited sophomores.

Mr. Lattig considers Biology quite interesting, but his students think otherwise.

Mr. Felumlee gets a kick out of helping the students during study hall.

Sophomores Ronnie Fleshman and Mark Shisler really got into their song for this year's lip sinc contest.

Mr. Reeves is never too busy to take time out to explain Geometry problems to Tammy Hoderfield.

Missy Farley and Lisa Ryan are two sophomores who were lucky to get to go to Prom before their junior year.

This year's sophomores had a new addition to their teachers, Mr. Felumlee. He became the sophomore's World History and World Geography teacher, and he seemed to have fit right in here at JHS. He had new and interesting ideas for his classes. The Hitler and Nazi affair was one of his biggest hits.

The sophomores received their class rings this year, and it was quite exciting for them to finally have a ring of their own. Especially since now that they have their own class ring they could give it to a boyfriend or girlfriend to wear.

Some sophomores who had turned 16 this year took driver's ed. and received their driver's license, which was a major highlight.

The majority of the sophomore class took Biology 1, which was taught by Mr. Lattig; World Geography or World History from Mr. Felumlee; Geometry by Mr. Reeves; English taught by Mrs. Ayres or Mr. Priest; a foreign language, which would have been taught by Mrs. Hartman (Spanish) or Mrs. Lane (French); and then of course there's always band or chorus.

Two More To Go!

Mr. Martin is always in the mood for a friendly argument with one of his gym aides as Wendi Williams can verify.*

This section of Biology tends to make girls like Marvy Swick squirmish but Albert Hill and his friends really enjoy it.*

Tom McKee and Bob Grace take their science seriously.*

Mr. Felumlee's history classes had a lot of fun with their project involving Hitler and the Nazis as Stacey Stover's smiling face shows.*

Getting down to basics are Mrs. Somers and Jenny Almendinger.*

There's always time out in a sophomore's busy schedule for a brief lunch break, not to mention 42 minutes to catch up on the latest gossip.*

Mr. Reeves' math class brings Tony Marshbank a close encounter with the blackboard.*

Square dancing is just one of the many things that the sophomores do during their last year of physical education.*

History, Algebra, Chemistry And English —

Classes Juniors Are Familiar With.

School and classes seem to be horrible, but by your junior year you learn how to tolerate them. You finally learn how to fall to sleep in class without teachers catching you, and how to talk your way out of an unfinished homework assignment. Classes, which ones do juniros take and why do they take them?

First, we'll start out with classes we have to take. These include English II, American History, and some sort of math. These are the classes they tell us we have to take.

"It's hard to believe we're almost there."

They also tell us we have to take a science with a lab, but most of us take biology our sophomore year. Because of this, usually, the juniors who are going on to college take either Chemistry or Biology II.

Spanish and French are classes that most juniors take. Most juniors take them because they need it for college, but some take it for the fun of it. Juniors who are business-inclined take classes such as typing, business math, and accounting.

Even though the classes that juniors take get boring occasionally, they have one main thing in common . . . to prepare us for the future.

A startled V. Davis turns to listen to Mr. Priest. This Algebra II class is trying to understand what Mr. Sutter is explaining. Concentrating on her music, is A. Brown. Mr. Priest celebrates his birthday with the Honors English II class.

American History is a mandatory class that every junior dreads taking. VoAg. is another class that juniors like C. Eing, S. Harris, M. Hollis, and J. Bush are involved in. Acting out a character from Huckleberry Finn for her final exam, is Sheryl Cain. S. *Harris and B. One More Class To Pass . . .

At last we made it — our SENIOR year! We've stammered, struggled, and studied (or at least some of us have) our last three years to make it to the BIG one. All we have left is one class. One class that would keep us away from Sunday, June 7th — AMERICAN GOVERNMENT!

Let's go back to our freshman year. We all basically took the same classes which included health, gym, and the intolerable general science. Somehow we got through it not to mention pulling our hair out in the process.

Now, our sophomore year. It was filled with excitement of getting class rings and no longer being called a little freshman. Most of us started taking different classes. Of course, we can't leave out the unforgettable World History and Geography, which we had the choice of taking.

Then, our third year came around. We lost some our classmates to the Joint Vocational School but still had fun preparing for prom and its activities. American History put forth a challenge for all of us.

Finally, the BIG year was here. A variety of majors were offered — from study hall to physics, there was something for all of us. Nearly all the seniors took Family Living, but all of us had one more required course to take. Whether we had government first, second, fifth, or eighth period, it proved to be interesting, especially the political and criminal notebooks.

Throughout our four years at J.H.S., we had a lot of things happen to us. We became the first class that had to have eighteen credits to graduate and also received three early days off at the end of the year. The JHS CLASS OF 1987 did have it all!

Business Classes Help Up And Coming Professionals Learn Basics

Typing, bookeeping, general business . . . who would want to learn about all that stuff? Actually, a lot of students take various business classes every year.

With the help of Mr. Centner, Mrs. Kelley, and Mrs. Kessler, students learn the basic rules of business. In typing, students do a style manual that they can keep for reference purposes. In accounting, students do a packet of different accounting situations that they might encounter later in life.

These business classes are very good for students who want to learn the basics about business.

Surprises to the Spanish IV class are to be expected and Papa Noel, pictured here with Joell Yates, is no exception.

Studying Languages Gives JHS International Flavor

"Is it spelled wrong if I forgot those little marks in the air . . . those accent things?"

"We have a dictee today?!"

"Can we have a game day? When can we?"

"How do you conjugate avoir and etre?"

Is the Petit Prince going to die at the end?"

"Is this the last verb tense we're learning? It isn't?"

"Who came first, Moliere or Voltaire?"

French students often have more questions than answers and always have more ideas for play than for study. However, despite the "fun" each level reached many goals this year.

The frequently bewildered francais I students traveled far on the road to the basics and went down in history as the last class to use the A La Francaise series. As a result, they were allowed to keep their books, write notes and translations in them and especially, pick at the covers all year so that most books resembled shorn sheep by December.

Francais II, having mastered the "easy stuff", ended the most difficult of the four levels of French by battling past and future verb tenses. Along the way they read and discussed in French a lengthy story and were surprised to see how well they could understand and answer oral questions.

Other than very nasty and undeserved pranks played on Mrs. Lane, the most memorable event for francais III will be Le Petit Prince, a novel. The class also had a brief letter exchange with French students from Watkins, had their first cooking day in three years, and finally reached the plateau of speaking more in French than in English.

Studying the highlights of French history, geography, and culture, francais IV enlivened their last year together with presentations and teaching to some of the eighth graders, a "Christmas in France" with a fourth grade class, and filmed the traditional French IV movie on video tape. This year's hit Hansel, Gretel, et Gretel, was filmed on location on Pershing Drive and is destined to become a classic.

While everyday is not a "game day", taking French certainly offers a lot more action than sitting in study hall.

Hard, Work, Sore Lips, And Lots Of Long Hours . . .

The Sound Of Music

Students at JHS have a right to be proud of our marching and concert bands. Everyone in these bands has worked their hardest to do their very best at every half-time show, concert, and contest they performed in.

During marching season the band performed in all of the football games and at several contests. These included the Licking Valley band contest, the River View Black Bear Invitational, and the Lancaster band contest. An excellent rating was received in all of these contests.

Concert season was also successful. The pep band provided life and spirit to the basketball games, pit orchestra supplied the music for this year's production of "Anything Goes" and thirteen members participated in the solo and ensemble contest. The stage band performed at both the Christmas and spring concerts, variety show, Marion Jazz Festival, and one basketball game. Eleven members were selected to go to county honors band, two members went to district honors, and one member participated in the state band.

Several members received awards at this year's band banquet. Steve Kashuk, John Philip Sousa; Mary Ann Pelkey, Semper Fidelis; Amber Brown and Beth Whitten, Director's award.

JHS Choirs Stage Performances

A portable stage is a thing of the past for J.H.S. performers. The seats of the new auditorium were filled for the musical, variety show, and spring concerts. As usual, the music department was busy all year preparing for shows and concerts. The show choir traveled around central Ohio performing for schools and nursing homes. They not only were in the vocal music concert, they performed in the Variety Show and at graduation. The mixed chorus class, which had almost 100 people, joined with the show choir and Jr. High to perform the first concert in the auditorium. Now, because, of the comfortable facility, there should be many more enjoyable concerts to come!

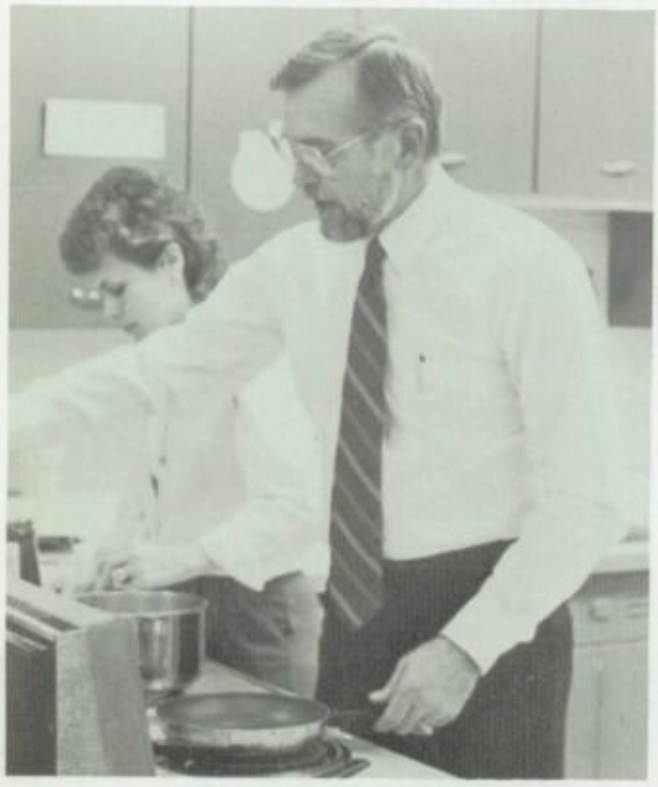
Carol Chapman and Retta Hattery enjoy their work.

Hard Work, Interesting Classes, And Plenty Of Diversions . . .

Home Economics



Home Economics students at JHS soon learn that what they once thought to be a class of sewing and cooking is actually much more. Here is just a sample of what this year's home ec classes did.

Projects and speakers were this year's main activities. Projects included the mock wedding and quest energizers, which was to improve the students' communications skills. Speakers included a lawyer, planned parenthood, a Park National Bank representative, and a Mary Kay consultant. Other speakers were a "professional" mother, a stress program, and a personal development unit. The classes also participated in a demonstration on how to prepare Italian cookies, a values auction, and planned and constructed the bulleti boards outside of the home ec rooms Overall this has been a very busy yea for the home ec classes.

It Isn't All Cows And Plows . . .

Vocational Agriculture

If anyone would ever ask a student of JHS what was involved in the vocational agriculture program, they would probably receive answers such as "just farming" or the standard "cows and plows". Nothing could be farther from the truth.

This year's vo ag classes participated in a number of programs such as a tractor safety unit, tractor driver certification, a community wide safety program, and programs from the Ohio Farm Bureau. Everyone in the class constructed projects to be exhibited at the Hartford fair, and the class was observed by representatives from the Ohio State Univeristy and the state department of education. Vo ag is definitely more than "cows and plows".

Vocational Clubs Have Much To Offer

The 1987 FHA/HERO members pose on the stage of the new auditorium.

This year's regional award winners include: Jenny Parsons, Debbi Cahill, Sonya Hatfield, Sue Pung, Nina McCombs, Marvy Swick, Chris Cook, Jill Swick, Denise Stewart, Nikki Smith, and Kara Pickering.

Acting as chapter and district president in addition to placing first in consumer decision making and job interviewing keeps Sue Pung busy.

Officers include Chris Cook, Marvy Swick, Sue Pung, Sonya Hatfield and Debbi Cahill.

Receiving her state degree was a big honor for Debbi Cahill.

FFA officers Barbara Jo Almendinger, Mike Giannini, Craig Eing, Lisa Kennedy, Tricia Wright, Tony Marshbank, Scott Priest, and Tim Priest directed this 60 member organization.

Winning first place in the state horse judging contest took lots of work on the part of Lori Kennedy, Amy Parker and Lisa Kennedy.

Rhonda Meadows, FFA Queen Barbara Jo Almendinger, and Lisa Hoovler pose with their escorts at the annual banquet.

Winning the state rural land judging contest qualifed Rob Welch, Jerry Bolden, and George Pancake for a trip in May.

Library And Office Aides Are . . .

A Great Help To Every One Involved.

Have you ever walked by the office, or in the library and wondered who the students behind the counters were? These are office and library aides. These students are a great help to the library and office.

In the office, the students answer phones, make copies, get attendance slips from teachers, and various other activities. The library aides help a lot too. They card and shelve books, straighten the library, and do other things that Mrs. Caudle needs done.

The students who are library and office aides give up their study halls to help in the library and office. Their assistance is greatly appreciated by all.

A Day Of Excitement . . .

Comes About When the Rebel and Beacon Are Sold . . .

The Rebel and the Beacon are J.H.S.' two publications that students have the opportunity to buy every year.

The Rebel, the school's newspaper, is published about six times a year. The newspaper has about fifteen members, and their main purpose is to talk about activities in the school. Besides reporters, the newspaper also has kids who type all the articles.

The Beacon, the yearbook, is published annually, but the students on the staff work all year long. There are kids who sell the yearbook, take the pictures, and kids who put the pictures in the yearbook.

There is always excitement when the Beacon or the Rebel is sold. Both of these publications help to preserve memories.

Members *of this year's Beacon staff are (from bottom to top) advisor, Mrs. Caudle, S. Reichert, L. Cooper, K. Caudle, M. Sharpe, L. Lattig, A. VanOrder, M. Priest, E. Heller, S. Hatfield, K. Brain Strain — High Level Learning

This year's National Honor Society was led by Laura Blair, President; Lanie Blackburn, Vice-President; Lisa Kelley, Secretary; and Sue Pung, Treasurer. The 22 members only met when there was a topic at hand. Before the new members were inducted, the older members went to the Bryn Mawr Restaurant for a Christmas dinner. In February a school assembly was held to present the new members to the school, this was called the annual Tapping Ceremony. A week later the 13 new members were formally inducted through the Induction Ceremony. To end this year and to wish the senior NHS members the best of luck, there was a Spring Fling Family Picnic held at the Uhde's home.

This year's Quiz Bowl team consisted of 9 hard-working students who competed in weekly matches. These matches were held on Wednesday afternoons beginning on January 21st and lasting through February 4th. The Quiz Bowl team also competed in the Licking County Tournament on March 11th.

Officially signing in as a National Honor Society member is Cindy Humphery.

The members of the National Honor Society are Debbie Cahill, Sue Pung, Heidi Wright, Joell Yates, Lanie Blackburn, MaryAnn Pelkey, Kathy Paxton, Scott Stover, Jeff Uhde, Alan Thompson, Laura Blair, Lora Ford, Koren Thompson, Ginny Owens, Kay Troxel, Tim McKenzie, Christy Sullivan, Rhonda Meadows, Cindy Humphery, and Amber Brown.
Quiz Bowl members for this year are Christy Roby, Kim Uhde, Amy Booth, Jeff Uhde, Tim McKenzie, Lora Ford, Cindy Humphery, Alan Thompson, and Mr. Reeves.

Majoring In Art And Science

Members of this year's art club are Ms. Allison, Homer Berkley, John Norris, Matt Cook, Pam Bloom, Terri Bailey, Ramona Dillon, Beth Whitten, Kim Baughn, Kim Miller, Carol Chapman and Teresa Keplar.

Greg Kitchen, Lisa Kelley, Sue Pung, Heidi Wright, Robert Schleich, Mary Ann Pelkey, Kathy Paxton, Koren Thompson, Alan Thompson, Kay Troxel, Tim McKenzie, Jill Loscko, Tammy Conard, Shawn Shumaker, Tim Kelley, Tony Ucker, Deanne Minico, and Lora Ford are all members of the science club.

The Science Olympics winners are Tony Ucker, Jeff Uhde, Shawn Shumaker, and Tim Kelley.

Diversity, The Key To Spanish And French

Members of the French club are as follows: L. Baisden, L. Schaller, C. Brown, L. Kelley, C. Parker, H. Wright, C. Eing, H. Wolfe, Mrs. Lane, P. Logan, B. Evans, J. Roth, B. Green, K. Miller, C. McKenzie, J. Bush, L. Blair, L. Ford, S. Smith, and Mrs. Hartman.
Expanding their knowledge on Spanish culture are Kay Troxel and Lori Kennedy.
Sharing her international knowledge with Jill Loscko, is Paola Giribaldi.

Both French and Spanish are equally fortunate to have clubs of their language. Both clubs partook of several activities throughout the year. These activities were not only fun, but also educational.

The Spanish club was headed this year by the following: Advisor, Mrs. Hartman; President, Kathy Paxton; Vice-President, Mary Ann Pelkey; Treasurer, Alan Thompson. The club met at club members' houses and during class if necessary. The thirty-five members participated in the following activities throughout the year: Halloween Fiesta, October 28, 1986; Christmas Fiesta, December 19, 1986; M & M's sale, February, 1987; Chi-Chi's trip, May 5, 1987; and to end the year on a good note they had a Spring Fiesta, May, 1987.

Unlike the Spanish club, the French club did not have officers, instead, they worked as an advisory committee. Headed by Mrs. Lane, the committee consisted of Cheryl Brown, Rob Dauber, Beth Flora, Rhonda Johnson, Lisa Kelley, Charlie Parker and Heidi Wright. The French club went to the Columbus International Festival in late October.

It is evident that both clubs stay busy throughout the year. Through good participation and fun activities they hope their success will continue.

Not Just Another Club . . .

Which club starts every Monday at 7:17 pm? Campus Life, of course! Many of our JHS students are involved in this fun club, which meets in the Searfoss cafeteria. Special meetings are also held in club members homes. Campus Life has taken their members on several trips. At Christmas time a few students took an interesting trip to Canada. During Spring Break, several headed for Florida for fun in the sun. The club sponsored many activities for the students' enjoyment. A skating party was held at Johnstown Skate 'n' Swim where students did the Limbo, "How low can you go?" and the Hokey Pokey. Our Campus Life club participated in S.P.U.G., Strategic Patrol Undercover Games, and in the Mudbowl. From the Mudbowl, they received a trophy, for which they were very pleased and proud.

Student Council Has Successful Year . . . Of Dances, Assemblies, Activities, And Support.

This year the J.H.S. student council had a very successful year. With Barbra Jo Almendinger as president, Sonya Hatfield as vice-president, Cindy Humphrey as secretary, and Tim Kelley as the treasuer, student council was able to do most of the activities they wanted.

Officers are elected at the end of the school year, and the representative are elected at the beginning of the new year. With twenty members of student council and Mrs. Hardman as advisor, a lot of ideas were thrown around at monthly meetings.

Starting in October, student council began to sponsor activities. There was the Halloween Dance, the Christmas Dance, computer dating, Winter Homecoming, Orange Crush, the Morp Dance, and the student council bought folding red chairs for the athletic department. Even though student council sponsored a lot of things by themselves, they also help cosponsor some events. They went together with FHA and FFA to sponsor Tom Donahy and they co-sponsored the Jack Hannah assembly with New Horizons. All of these activities went over really well and the students seemed to enjoy themselves.

This year's student council was a very active group. They had dances, assemblies, computer dating, sold Crush, and they even helped Jack Hannah come with his animals to J.H.S. The student council deserves a lot of credit, and we hope they will do well next year.

When driving through the streets of Johnstown last fall between 7:00 pm and 12 am people may have thought it odd that there were no teenagers cruising the streets, hanging out of windows screaming Hi's to people across the way, or standing around Duke's in groups. No, these teenagers were at football games cheering their team on to victory, parties at various places, and dancing their feet off at JHS's many dances. Fall weekends are undoubtedly packed with fun and excitement in a variety of events.

Getting Things Rolling, Weekend Activities Build School Spirit

Our Spirit Is Showing!

An Oldie But A Goodie — Homecoming '86

Despite the rain, wind, and mud, Fall Homecoming 1986 proved to be very successful. To begin the evening off, Johnstown defeated Lakewood 7 to 6. Afterwards, Johnstown students gathered in the gym to see the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. The attendants were Freshman Tonya Brown, escorted by Robert Poole; Sophomore Debbie Clark, escorted by Danny Hatfield; Juniors Debbi Cahill, escorted by Rick Flora, and Vicki Davis, escorted by Alan Thompson; Seniors Barbara Almendinger, escorted by John Norris, Beth Flora, escorted by Scott Stover, and Queen Mary-Ann Pelkey, escorted by Lance Hall.

The theme of Homecoming 1986 was " Twist and Shout". The disc jockey "Music King" provided both old and new songs to fit the theme. The students danced enthusiastically to the music while watching the videos on a big screen. The dance began right after the game and lasted until 12:30 a.m.

Homecoming '87 — Fit For A King

This year, Student Council sponsored the first Winter Homecoming, Sadie Hawkins style. This time, the girls were the ones asking the guys to the dance, and for some, that proved to be very difficult. Encouraged by the results from the J.H.S. computer dating survey, many girls got up the nerve to ask the top guy on their list to the dance. Unlike the Fall Homecoming with a Queen's Court, there was a King's Court. This consisted of Freshman Roy Fuller, escorted by Tammy Conard; Sophomore Stan Stewart, escorted by Tracy Orders; Juniors Tony Ucker, escorted by Jennifer Williams, and David Reese; Seniors Matt Cook, escorted by Nicole Montgomery, Alan Thompson, escorted by Meg Troxel, and King Danny Hatfield, escorted by Debbie Clark. Putting aside the defeat by Watkins, students gathered in the gym and danced to music from D.J. Kim Jakeway until 12:00 a.m.

The black out participants danced to the oldie but goody "Rockin' Robin."
Carl Booth and Ron Fleshman help lead the audience in the finale.

"Anything Goes" In The J.H.S. Musical

Stowaways, Criminals, Mistaken Identities, And Love Triangles Add Humor To the 1930 Farce.

Laughter, amazement, and applause filled the J.H.S. Performing Arts Center on May 1 and 2. The reason: The first musical to be held in the new auditorium which was "Anything Goes."

Audiences on both nights listened to the humorous Reno Sweeny attempt to catch Sir Evelyn Oakleigh who just happened to be engaged to Hope Harcourt. While Billy Crocker, who was in love with Hope, tried to keep away from the captain but not with the help of Moonface Martin and Bonnie.

In the songs "Bon Voyage", "It's Delovely", "Let's Step Out", "You're the Top", "Blow Gabriel Blow", and of course "Anything Goes", the many singing talents of the entire cast were shown off to the Johnstown community.

Thanks to the efforts of Mr. Priest, Mrs. Guzay, Mrs. Reeves, the cast, and many other people who helped during the three long months of practice, the J.H.S. musical was once again a huge success.

Miss Reno Sweeny played by Tammy Jackson.
The steward helps Sir Evelyn with his shaving.

Pam Bloom, Steve Kashuk, Lora Ford, Rocky Jackett, Mark Kaiser, Todd Friedburg, Jason James, and Tim McKenzie are the eager crew for the voyage.

Some of the talented passengers include Lanie Blackburn, Eric Cooperider, Jenny Almendinger, Denisa Stephens, Katie Messer, Jane Cundiff, and Kari Bush.

The intelligent guests are Kim Uhde, Julie Duke, Missy Sharpe, Amy Priest, and Jen Randle.

Even More Talent . . .

Tim McKenzie and Jenny Almendinger take a breather during the busy performance.

Denisa Stephens, Mark Kaiser, Cheryl Brown, and Jason James enjoy the moonlight.

Rocky Tackett, Kathy Burke, and Jim Wheaton are the ace reporters of the cruise.
Tammy, Angie, Jenny, Trina, Felicia, Erica, Kathy, Chris, Nikki, and Suzanne star as the dancers.
Bonnie does the "Heaven Hop."
Hope and Evelyn up on deck.

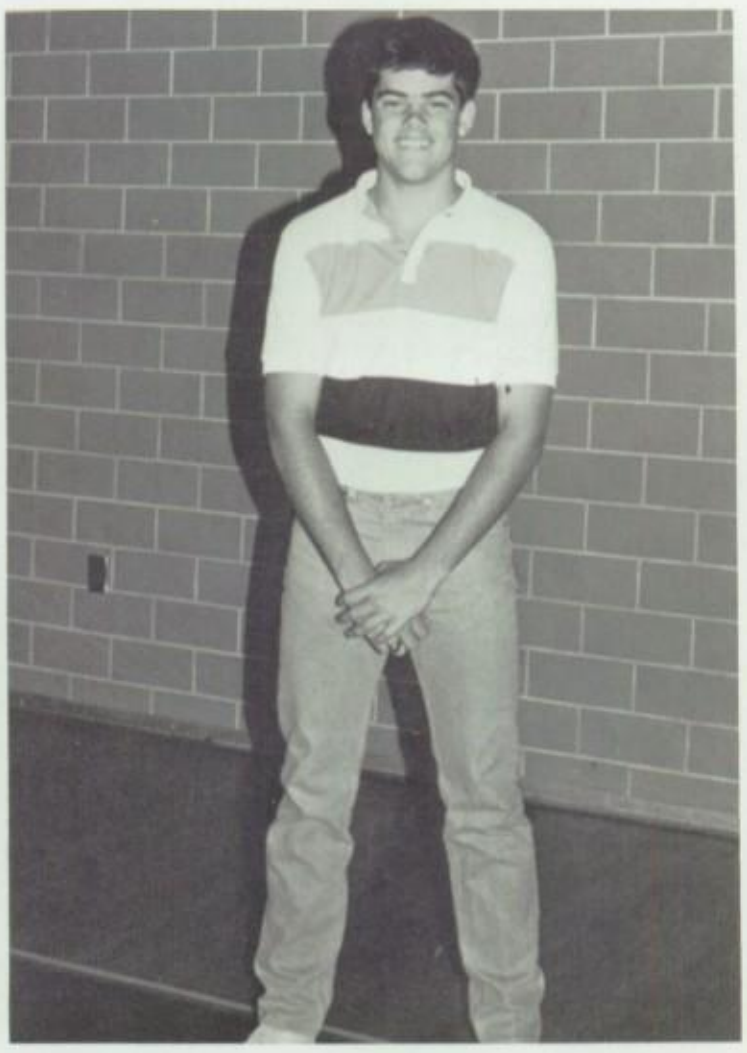
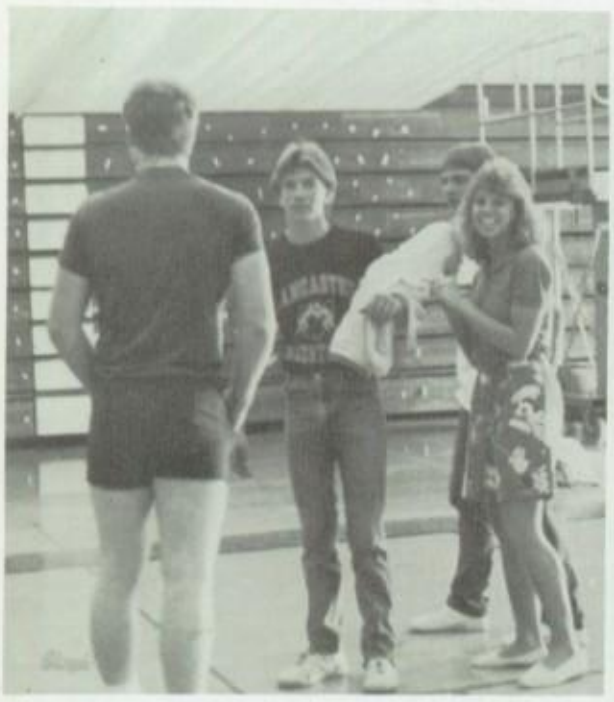
The annual Academic Awards Night was held on May 18 this year in the new auditorium. Before an audience of approximately 300 parents and students, the faculty presented awards for outstanding academic achievement in each subject area. Pins and certificates were awarded to 127 students in addition to several special awards. The "I Dare You" award, Presidential Academic Fitness awards, the Award of Distinction, and the presenting of the 1987 valedictorian and salutation were done during the program. In addition, two JHS seniors received special recognition from the armed forces: Lisa Kelley received a four year scholarship from the Marines and Jeff Uhde was recognized for his appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. The students who devote their time and energy to developing their "mental muscle" had their chance to get a pat on the back for a job well done.

Top academic point hours for this year belong to Sue Pung, valedictorian, and Joell Yates, salutatorian.*
The challenge to develop their leadership skills went to Tim McKenzie and Rhonda Meadows who received the "I Dare You" Award.*
Winners of the American Legion writing contest were Denisa Stephens, Scott Stover, Christy Roby, Ginny Owens, and Jeff Uhde.*
While the rest of us rest up this summer, Jeff Uhde will be enduring his first year at Annapolis.*



A Lot Of Extra Effort

"Just You And I" (With 200 Other Students, 16 Faculty Chaperones, And Miscellaneous Parents.)



With rhinestones glittering, tuxedos spotless, and cars looking better than they ever had, JHS students made their way to Prom. "Just You and I" suited the night to the "T". After dining at Grand Catering the night before, JHS students were even more excited about the dance. There was nothing in the air but happiness as the couples danced to the music of "Crosswinds". Afterwards, students were not let down when they went to the Columbus Bowling Palace. There they found an array of things to do including bowling, playing in the arcade, eating, and watching videos. Thanks to Mrs. Kessler and the Prom Committee, this year's prom was again a big success.

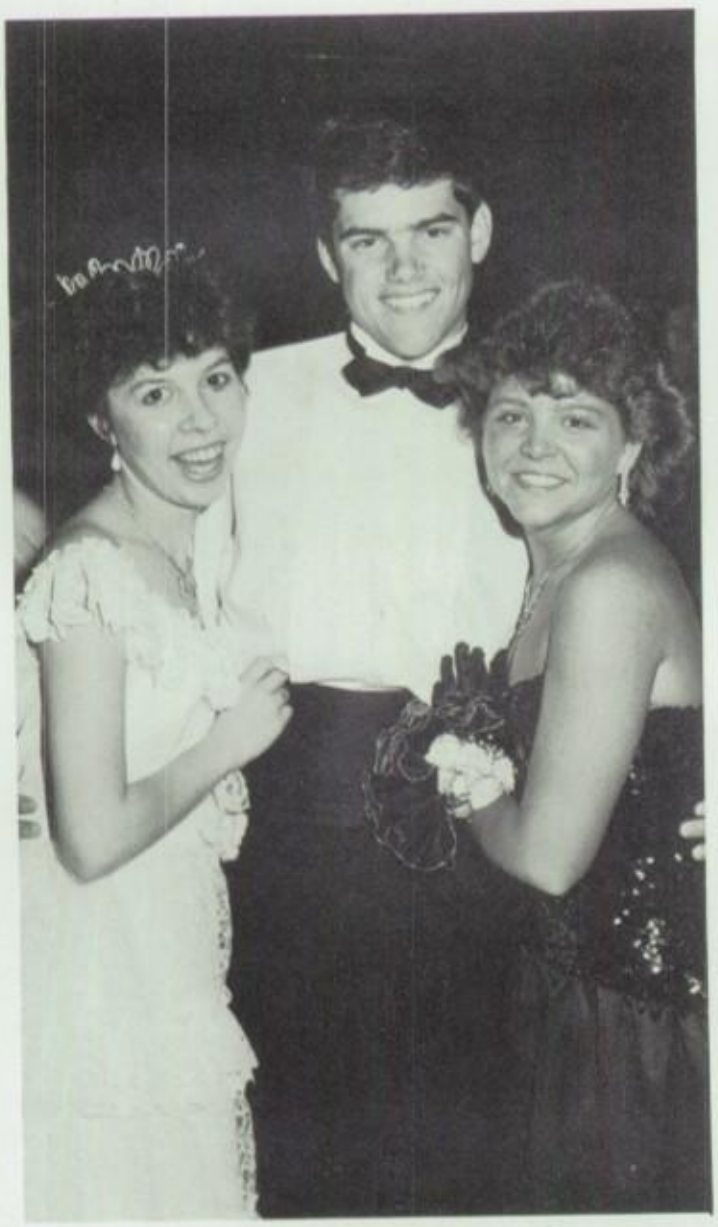
Keeping their cool were Kathy Burke and Ron Fleshman.

Transforming the gym into a paradise are Tim Priest, Tony Ucker, Rhonda Meadows and Jerry Bush.

Smiling during the special night are Andy Cannon and Corri Campbell.

Standing with her date is prom queen, Barbara Jo Almendinger.

Showing the prom spirit are Tim Priest and Jeff Barr.



Sitting royally in front of the crowded gym is the 1987 prom court.

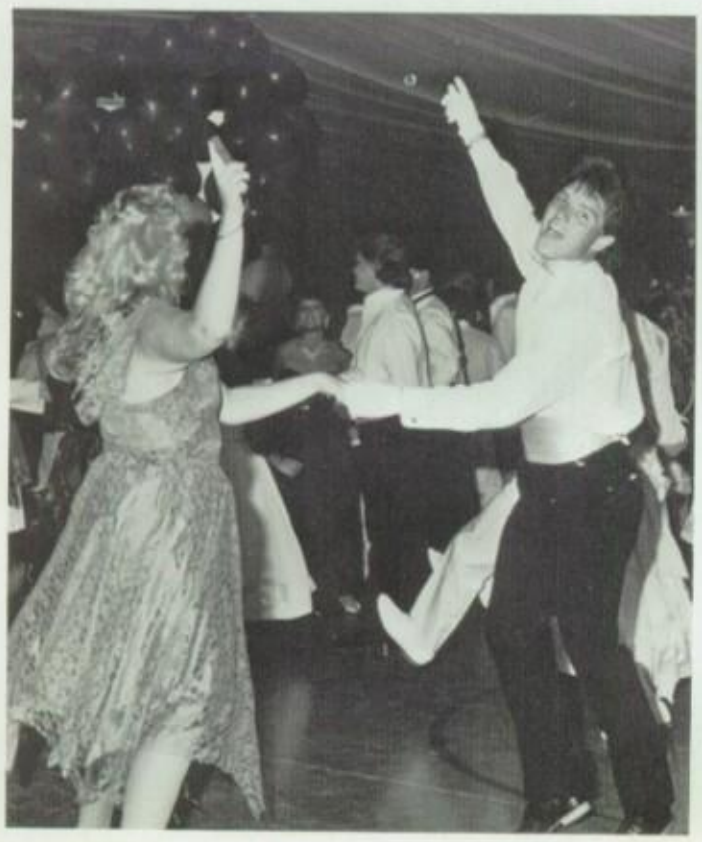
Despite the humidity, Meri Stygler finds a way to keep Lloyd Brown cool.

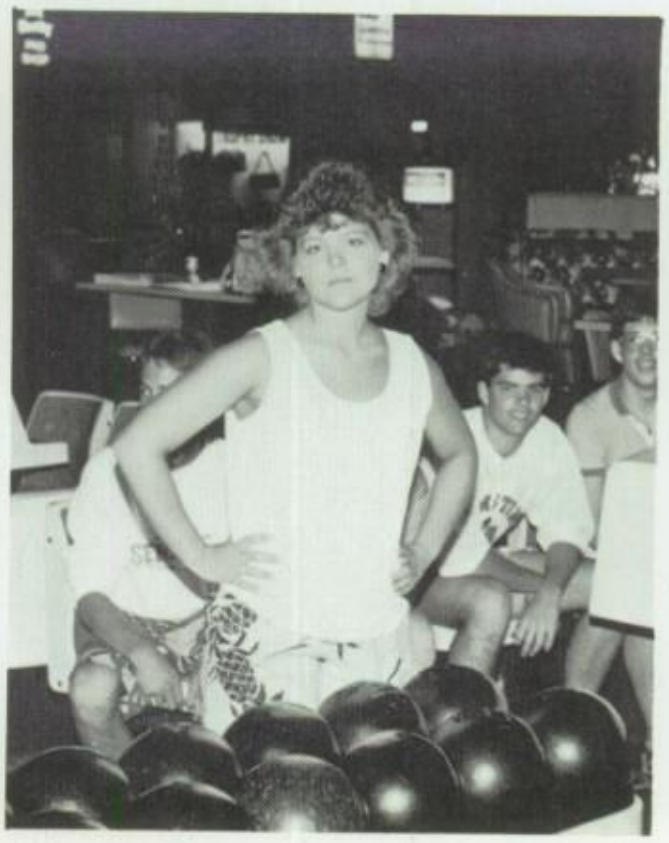
Posing with their favorite man, Jeff Uhde, are Joell Yates and Beth Flora.

Taking time out for a picture are Steve Dague and his date.

Stopping for a breather are Arnie Williams and Elena Johnson.

While waiting for the band to begin, these couples cool off outside.





The ever-smiling C. McCann and R. Johnson brightened up the night.

Grabbing a refreshment before going back to the lanes is T. Kelly.

Bowling their hearts out are C. Booth, J. Wheaton, R. Dillion, S. Litchenberger, K. Burke, K. Messer, and P. Girobaldi.

Picking a balloon for J. Roth is B. Hall.

M. Pelkey gives the camera a smile and a bowling lesson.

C'mon R. Dauber and T. Jackson this isn't Saturday Night Fever!

Gutter Ball Beth?

Posing pretty for the camera are S. Buck and his date.

Going out in style are D. Hatfield and D. Clark.

Making a cute couple are H. Scates and T. McKenzie.

Enjoying the food and the company are D. Minico, L. Ford, J. Bush and V. Davis.

Leaving the frills at home and stepping out are C. Dandrea, D. Clayton, T. Bailey and T. Keplar.

Looking their best are M. Hall, M. Collins, C. Chapman and M. Davis.

Graduation — A Time To Remember Things "Passed."

Valedictorian Sue Pung, addresses her attentive audience.
Salutatorian Joell Yates welcomes everyone to graduation.
Mr. Montgomery hands Alan Thompson one of his many scholarship awards.
Smiling happily as she receives her award, is Lanie Blackburn.

Sticking together through thick and thin are Angela Tallent and Lisa Baisden.
Leading the crowd are Grand Marshalls Tony Ucker and Rhonda Meadows.
Jay Orders and Jeff Uhde make their way to their seats.

Braving the wind and the heat, people poured into the Frank H. Chambers stadium on June 7 for the purpose of graduation. Inside the school, 108 soon-to-be graduates recalled all the events that had gone on for the past four years and anxiously awaited the award they would receive for these. Salutatorian Joell Yates welcomed everyone and valedictorian Sue Pung had everyone picture a book that would tell them of the future. The class sermon was given by Rev. Jerry Hershberger. Sixteen students received scholarships and awards and Jeff Uhde was voted Best Citizen. It closed with the recession, crying, hugging, and beaming faces.

Laura Blair happily receives her carnation from Tony Ucker.
Smiling proudly are Ron Byerly and Crystal McCann.
Keeping their balance and their hats on are Mary Ann Pelkey and Lori Theado.
Derek Vincken, Jerry Smith, Brian West, and Chris Strelecky are cool and collected waiting for commencement to start.
Showing off their smiles are Barbara Almendinger and Teresa Keplar.

Horsing around before graduation are Lisa Kelley and Sue Pung.
Being together for one last picture are Heidi Wright, Beth Flora, Rhonda Johnson, Jenna Thompson, and Terri Bailey.
Making their way down the stairs are Kathy Paxton and Jenna Thompson.
Playing for the last time are Steve Kashuk and Ramona Dillon.
Waiting for commencement are Rob Dauber and Dennis Meade.

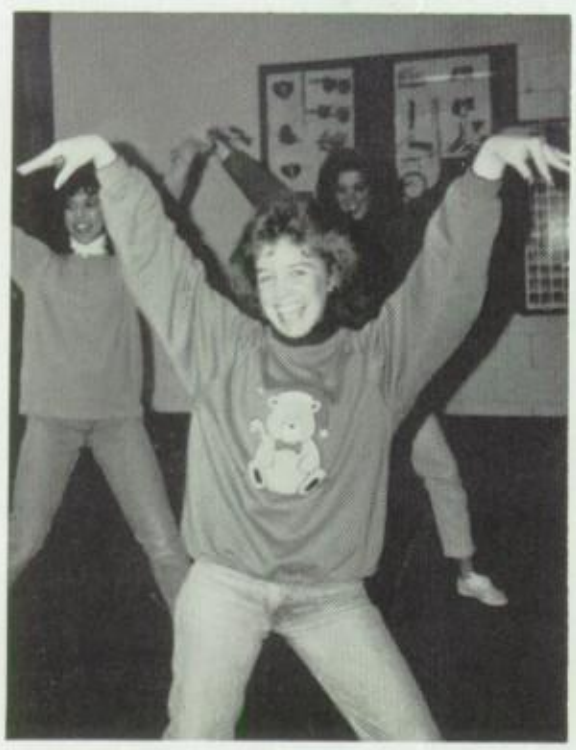
Although we often don't stop to think about it if our teams don't win the league or our grades don't put us on the honor roll, we really do "have it all" here at Johnstown. Our school is small enough to let us get to know everyone; big enough that we can each be as individualistic as we dare to be. The addition of the new Performing Arts Center makes our facilities the best in the county. Besides being our teachers, many of the faculty are also our friends — willing to put in extra hours chaperoning dances, coaching sports, and supervising clubs so we can have extra-curricular events. Regardless of how well our teams do, how good our grades are, or how "in" our friends seem to others, the bottom line is . . .



We've Got It All!
